WHITE MAN STRUCK BY GAS-ELECTRIC CAR

WAS ASLEEP ON TRACKS NEAR BLUE RIDGE DEPOT

RESTING WELL

Reported Last Night That Condition Was Improved—Name is E. B. Sanders.

It was stated from the Anderson county hospital late last night that Mr. E. Berry Sanders, the man who was struck and painfully injured by the Blue Ridge motor car Sunday night, was resting well and seemed to be getting along nicely. The chances for recovery seem good unless complications set in.

Mr. Sanders was struck by the gas electric car from Seneca, No. 30, which is due in Anderson at 7:55, but which was running a little late Sunday night, arriving about 8:15. It is stated that the man was lying across the tracks at an angle with his feet in the direction from which the car was coming, in the cut between the Ligon and Ledbetter building and the new storeroom being built by Mr. J. H. Anderson. Owing to the curve just west of Main street and also to the fact that there was a car on the siding, the engineer, Mr. J. H. Maxwell, was unable to see the form of the man until his train was within a few feet of him. The brakes were quickly applied, but the car could not be stopped in time. The pilot struck the body, but the car was brought to a standstill before any of the wheels passed over it. One leg was broken and there was a wound in the back of his head.

Physicians were summoned and the man's wounds given attention so that he could be taken to the hospital. At first it was thought that his chances for recovery were few but after reaching the hospital it was discovered that the injuries were not as serious as everyone first thought immediately after the accident.

Mr. Sanders appears to be about 35 years of age. He is married and has a family who live at the Gluck Mill, where they moved from Hartwell about two weeks ago. Owing to the fact that a pint bottle half filled with whiskey was found near the man, it is supposed that he had been drinking.

SOMETHING NEW BEING SHOWN AT PALMETTO

Hall's Palace Review Made Decided Hit in First Performance Yesterday Afternoon.

A thoroughly pleased audience witnessed the first performance yesterday afternoon of Hall's Palace Review, the company which is playing at the Palmetto every afternoon and night this week. The tabloid was something quite different from the usual presented by companies traveling in this section but met with genuine approval on the part of the audience. There is a certain refinement about the company that is pleasing and yesterday afternoon there was nothing that would lead one to suspect vulgarity.

Miss Grace Harris is the leading woman in this company and plays her roles well. Miss Harriet Powell and Lee Ritchey also deserve mention for their parts. Jackie McDonald does the dancing stunts and yesterday afternoon his performances were heartily applauded. Sam Carlton as comedian is good and always brings the laugh.

W. R. Hall is truly an artist when it comes to impersonating and yesterday as the "Widow O'Brien," was especially good. Mr. Hall has made a life study of his work and has appeared before some of the best audiences in America. Yesterday afternoon he wore a costume which he said cost $600, and it looks the part. The chorus is good looking, neat, well trained, and the wardrobe is complete.

Today the company presents a "New York Cabaret," featuring Miss Powell, contortionist.

Disappearing David.
"Goliath was thrown quite off his guard when David stipulated for a battle in the twentieth century style.

"Oh, very well!" answered the Philistine with a sneer of disdain. So they went forth and began to dig trenches. But by the time Goliath had sunk himself to his knees David was out of sight.

"David wins" cried the military critics, unanimously.—Pack.

Minister Gives Testimony.
The Rev. C. M. Knighton, Havana, Fla., writes: "For three months I suffered intense pain in kidneys and back, which at times laid me up entirely. I read of Foley Kidney Pills and after trying various remedies without result I decided to try the Foley treatment. I was relieved almost with the first dose and it is a fact that I used only 11-12 bottles when all of the pains disappeared. I am 55 years of age and now feel like a young man again. MEETING OF COUNTY STOCK ASSOCIATION

OFFICERS WERE ELECTED FOR THE ENSUING YEAR

ADDRESSES MADE

By Prof. Harper and Prof Shields of Clemson College—Attendance Small.

A meeting of the Anderson County Live Stock association was held yesterday at noon in the court house for the purpose of electing officers for the ensuing year and hearing addresses by Prof. J. N. Harper, director agricultural department and experiment station at Clemson, and Prof. Shields of animal husbandry and dairying at Clemson college.

For a time it seemed as if there was going to be no attendance at the meeting but finally about 30 interested men went in the court room and Prof. Harper began making his talk, which was on the things that interested him most on his recent trip to California.

"While I was out west," stated Mr. Harper, "I stopped at my old home in Mississippi, where the boll weevil was at its best. I saw cotton as high as my shoulders, which would not average more than two bolls to the stalk. The people there seem not yet to have caught on to the ways to combat the boll weevil and their cotton crop was just ruined. This is just by way of introduction to what I want to impress upon you all today and that is that the boll weevil is coming this way and in about five years will be here. Also that if we want to combat it successfully, we must begin now. I do not want to excite anyone unnecessarily, but it is a cold plain fact that this awful insect will be right with us in a very few years."

Prof. Harper then began to discuss the ways by which the farmers in South Carolina could begin to prepare themselves for the advent of the boll weevil. He stated that the insect did not do so much damage after the bolls grew to the size of marbles and that therefore the first thing to do would be to plant early varieties of cotton. He stated also that the farmers must look for substitution crops, and went on to give the names of several that could be profitably grown in this section. He stressed good pastures, plenty of live stock and increased acreage in corn. By illustrating with crops he saw growing in the west, Prof. Harper showed how the farmers in this section might grow other things besides cotton. He closed his speech by stating that the best way to combat the boll weevil was to have other systems of farming to fall back upon and that the time to begin learning other systems was right now.

After Prof. Harper finished so many questions were asked that it kept him on the floor for about 15 minutes more.

Prof. Shields discussed live stock and the necessity in this section of more pure blooded cows and hogs. He stated that it was much easier to raise these than the others and that there was always a market for them. He insisted upon the grading of herds, and the use of pure bred bulls as a means of improving the live stock. He advocated the cooperation of the farmers in buying bulls and stated that several ought to go in together and purchase one if it could not be obtained otherwise. He pointed out the benefits of the live stock markets recently established in the state and advised the people to begin to feed their cattle now for these markets.

After Mr. Shields finished his speech the election of officers was taken up.

Mr. S. A. Burns refused reelection as president and Mr. Spearman was elected but refused to accept. Mr. Thomas Eskew was then elected to succeed Mr. Burns. Mr. Joe Douthitt, Jr., was then elected as treasurer to succeed Mr. B. M. Aull, and Mr. C. M. Campbell of Belton was elected to succeed Mr. T. E. Wakefield as vice president.

There being no further business before the body the meeting adjourned.

MEETING EPWORTH LEAGUE

Attendance Small Because of Rain. Mrs. MacDonald Sang Solo.

The heavy downpour of rain caused many who always prove loyal to the Epworth league to keep their place at home last evening. In spite of the rain and many other things that were against the meeting there was a good number present and a splendid program was carried out.

Mrs. MacDonald favored the members of the league with a special solo which was a great addition to the regular entertainment. The league is especially grateful to Mrs. MacDonald for braving the weather to come out to the meeting to render this song.

After the song service was over Rev. J. W. Speake who had consented to lead the league was called upon. Mr. Speake took the book of Ruth and outlined a plan of study to those who contemplate studying the Bible. This outline was especially interesting and instructive. In connection with the outline several very helpful lessons were brought out.

Elementary Union.
The regular monthly meeting of the Elementary Union will be held at Central Presbyterian church this afternoon at 4 o'clock. All members are urged to attend.

MINISTERIAL UNION IN REGULAR MEETING

WAS HELD IN PARLORS OF THE HOTEL CHIQUOLA

MOTION PASSED

To the Effect That Regular Meetings Be Held Every Second Monday.

The Anderson Ministerial union held a meeting yesterday morning in the parlors of the Hotel Chiquola for the purpose of electing officers for the coming year and of discussing means by which the Union could accomplish more good and at the same time be of more benefit to the members.

The election of officers resulted in the Rev. John W. Speake being elected president for the next year and the Rev. D. Witherspoon Dodge, secretary.

As means of accomplishing more good and for the purpose of creating more interest, it was decided that regular meetings be held on the second Monday of each month and also to invite all pastors of the county to meet with the Union. All preachers in the mill villages and in the county are asked to attend these regular meetings of the Union when questions of interest will be discussed.

One number of the program for the next meeting will be the review of a book by Dr. John E. Witte, in addition to the regular discussions that may come up.

Among those present yesterday morning were the Revs. John E. White, John W. Speake, D. Witherspoon Dodge, W. H. Frazer and J. M. Garrison.
